Green Paper SEND Review

Dept for Education published Government's SEND Review: Right support, right place, right time at the end of March 2022. It is a consultation on provision for children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) and alternative provision. The consultation sets out proposed reforms which seek to address:

- poor outcomes for children and young people with SEND
- the negative experience that SEND children, their families and parents have in finding their way through the system
- the lack of value added for children, young people and families.

CQ Members at the AGM will have the opportunity to download briefings on these challenges and the Government's proposals and to discuss their contents.
